PRESS RELEASE

Nashville, August 30, 2007: The Tennessee Foreign Language Institute is pleased to announce the addition of two new staff members.

Miranda Runcie joins TFLI as an Administrative Assistant to the Business Office. Ms. Runcie has studied at L'Abri Institute in Huemoz, Switzerland and at the International College of Seville in Seville, Spain. She instructed an Environmental Awareness class at Truman State University and volunteered in the campus recycling program. Miranda also spent a year teaching English classes to adults in Quito, Ecuador and to children at the Hacienda de Esperanza children's home in Tabacundo, Ecuador.

Jennifer Foley is our new Interpretation Services Coordinator. Ms. Foley is a graduate of Vanderbilt with a PhD (ABD) Anthropology, Vanderbilt University with a focus in Mesoamerican Archaeology and Latin American Studies. She holds a B.A. in Archaeology from Boston University. Jennifer has worked on several archaeological projects focused on the excavation of ancient Maya sites in Belize and Guatemala. She recently finished her dissertation research centered on the excavation of La Sufricaya, an ancient Maya site located in northern Guatemala. She has traveled extensively throughout Central America including Mexico, Guatemala, Belize and Honduras.
