

Morning Roundup: Taxi Driver Edition

By Tracy Moore in By the Way

Wed., Dec. 2 2009 @ 10:32AM

...Do you take taxis? If so, perhaps you've encountered rude drivers. The Convention & Visitors Bureau, Tennessee Foreign Language Institute and Metro Licensing and Transportation Commission want to help. They're sponsoring a three-day etiquette course for the largely foreign-born workers who the city claims aren't "properly welcoming visitors." Most hilarious quote: "They have learned that people in America have small, superficial relationships with strangers," said Meagan Young, the language institute's project manager for the program. Not just strangers, Meagan!...

http://blogs.nashvillescene.com/pitw/2009/12/morning_roundup_taxi_driver_ed.php